WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1856.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river, up to last evening had fallen 2 inches, leaving 31/2 feet water on the falls and 6 feet water in the canal. The Pittsburg rise has not yet reached here. The weather moderated yesterday and was cloudy. The steamer Pete Whetstone was got off the falls last evening, where she had been aground since Saday. She sustained no damage.

The Superior is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day. The splendid steamers Hiawatha and A. B. Chambers leave for New Orleans to-day. The lliawatha arrived yesterday from Pittsburg, where she was built, and is a large and fine boat. The Chambers was built at Ciucinnati, is commanded by Captaiu Gormley, and is said to be an elegant boat.

The R. J. Ward, Capt. Silas F. Miller, a palace of a steemer and a prince of a captain, starts for New Orleans to-morrow evening.

The steamer Ennice leaves for St. Louis to-day, the Raven for the Tennessee river, and the Ranger, Return, Ilickman, and Cambridge for Nashville.

Collision .- The steamers R. F. Sass, bound down and the Metropolis, bound up, came in collision on Sunday night about four miles below Ironton. Neither of the boats sustained serious damage. The Sass cau be repaired at an expense of seventy-five or one hundred dollars. The Metropolis was met by the Grampus No. 2, after the accident, under way.

COTTON GOING NORTH.-Messrs. Falls & Cash shipped two hundred bales of cotton per National yes-terday for Cairo, which goes thence by railroad to New York and Fall River, Mass., one-half for each place. This will soon become an important route for shipping cotton to the eastern cities, provided the railroad companies establish a tariff to compete with other routes .- Memphis Bulletin.

The largest portion of this cotton will, doubtless, be returned by the same route to consumers of cotton goods in the near the cotton-planting States. The whole cost of transit cannot fall much if any below 6 cents per pound, reckoning freight, iusurance, interest, and commission, and not including profits. For this 6 cents a pound the cotton, in a first-cluss and well-managed cotton mill, can be made up at or uear the cotton fields into coarse cloth. What folly, theu, to expect such a course of trade to continue. Dragging cotton and cotton goods twelve hundred miles each way, over coal fields and by water falls and through the richest subsistence country on earth to and from barren and cold New England where corn is planted with a crowbar on the hill sides, and where the valleys are made reservoirs of water power-a power, by the way, always uncertain and now largely aided by coal imported from Pennsylvania!

THE COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT TO MRS. DEMING. In another column will be found a correspondence between a large number of our citizens and the accomplished vocalist Mrs. Deming. Those who had the good fortune to hear this lady's charming singing at the Lonisville Hotel on Monday evening last, were so greatly delighted with her musical power, and her sweet rendering of the most beautiful and difficult operas, and the heart-reaching ballads of Ireland and Scotland, that they insisted upon her receiving a complimentary concert at Mozart Hall to-morrow evening.

We are gratified that she has consented to remai here for that purpose. He vocal powers are truly great, and our citizens will be more than satisfied with her performance. We urge all who really de sire to hear good music to attend this concert. understand that there will be a crowded house, for our citizens are determined to show that they can appreciate and will enconrage real merit, even in one of their own countrywomen. We hope that for this reason, if the no other, Mrs. Deming will have the largest and feace that ever filled Mozart Hall.

WHITFIELD ADMITTED .- It will be seen, from the proceedings of the Lower House of Congress that the vote, declaring Whitfield not entitled to a seat in that body as a delegate from Kansas, was reconsidered yesterday, and he was admitted by a vote of 112 to 108.

To us this seems to approach very closely to erfection:

[For the Louisville Journal.] HALF-WAY.

BY REV. T. HEMPSTFAD. Some silver lines begin to show Amldst the brown like threads of snow Along December hills, While every bright-eyed bird that sings Has flown, to break with dappled wings The glass of Southern rills,

All, thirty-four, brave thirty-four! Oue green, revolving summer more Will set my hurrying feet Upon the midway, rounding slope Of seventy years, while radiant Hope Aud pensive Memory meet.

O, flecting months? O, wasting years! Sad days! and nights of haunting fears! Ye came and ye are gone-Ye brought and broke some blessed dreams, Ye dried some cool, refreshing streams, And left the dusty stone!

Backward-my path lies dim in storms-Dark-muffling palls and spectral forms Aud poisou'd blossoms wave; Still, as I count each vanish'd foe Aud severing band, I grieve to know The worst was not the grave.

Not saddest are the bells that toll Some patient, jov'd, and jovely soul, Back to its mansion fled; Grief hath a deeper grief than all The grave can bring—the heavy pall
That wraps the living dead!

True, there are spots like myrtle isles That bloom and send their golden smiles Down o'er the surging storms, Green banks and vales—the whispering grove, And flowers of womau's holier love, And childhood's lily forms;

A falling eye, a sweet, young face, A soft tone in a shady place Girt by a jasmine wall; The trance of quiet Sabhath hours— Ah, royal gems, dear, painted flowers, Trampled and wither'd all!

Yet who laments that all are gone?-Pours on the cold, memorial stone Grief's wild, tumultuous tides? What soul so hopeless, poor, and vain To tread life's weary road again For all the gems it hides?

To drink the scorn, to feel the shame That eats away the heart like flame, With not a face to love: To hear a thousand clarions call Away to Glory's crowning hall, Without the power to move?

I crave it not! yet thanks to Thee, Lord of the lily, heart, and sea, For life, though held in pain; I yearn: am blind, I faint, I pine, A better land to gain.

Green spread for me the Summer hills, Soft hangs the hridai hluc that fills The noon's imperial arch, Mine are the songs of bird and blast, The softer memories of the Past-The stars' triumphal march.

'Tis mine the brooklet's maze to trace, Look on the regal imman face Still redolent of God; In gentle word and quiet deed, To swathe some hearts that ache or hleed, Uproof the thistle and venomous weed. And strew the olive and myrtle seed, As violets strew the sod.

For these, to Thee, be incense given, First, Highest, Brightest, King of Heaven, And Lord of quick and dead! Thanks, for the deserts' wasted springs, As for the fount that nearest sings, And to the soft wind's ldle wings. Dissolves in diamond whorls and rings, As if it heard Thy tread!

Thanks! for the glory of the rose-The mantle of the mountain snows. Thanks! for the tyrant's brazen blows, And for the scorner's scorn; Thanks! when the good and lovely bow In death, as for the Blessed Brow That were the Crown of Thorn!

In the josh'd slave's unnitied grooms In rooms where the starv'd orphan moans, In the heart's crushing stone-Yea, in the mighty sobs that knoll The breaking of the Golden Bowi. Great God, Thy will is done.

A SAD BEREAVEMENT .- In our obituary column will be found a notice of the death of two charming an interesting little girls, daughters of Mr. Jas. Johnstone, within a few hours of each other. They were victim's of the scarlet fever. Like tender flowerets upon the same stem they have been withered by the blasts of the pestilence and their pure spirits have been summoned to a better and a brighter world. Bright, joyous, and promising in their tender youthfulness, they have passed from the sight of doting parents and loving friends,. The bereaved mother and the father, who is absent, have the sincere condolence of all who know them. Their funeral takes place at 3 o'clock this afternoon

INQUEST .- The coroner held an inquest, yester day, upon the body of Michael Crane, in Portland. The deceased was an Irish laborer, about sixty years of age, and very much addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors. He stopped at the house of an Italian confectioner on Monday evening and begged admission. During the night the family was very much disturbed by the deceased being up, and, in morning, he was found in a dying condition. Verdict: "Came to his death from the effects of intemperance and exposure.

BANK OF CHATTANOOGA .- A report affecting the solvency of this institution has been current on the street for the last two days. There is not a word of buth in the report, and it doubtless had its origin from the suspension of the branch of the Bank of East Tennessde at Chattanooga. A private pispatch remived from Nashville yesterday says: The Branch of the Bank of East Tennessee at Chattanooga has suspended, but the Bank of Chattanooga is as good as gold.

CONCERT.-Her Von Killuitz, a Hungarian exile. will give a concert to-night at Mozart Hall, at which he will introduce a new and very extraordinary in-strument, invented by himself, during his captivity among the Russians. It is called the Sympho Concertina.

THE FIREMEN'S FAIR .- This attractive cutertainment at Odd Fellow's Hall is nightly crowded with the loveliest women and gallant gentlemen. The tables are kept well supplied with articles of fancy and usefulness, and refreshments of all kinds. Each evening the Fair has closed with a social scirce, which has proved a most attractive feature.

We are requested to state that persons who received the first volume of the Patent-Office Report for 1855 (Mechanical) from Hon. Humphrey Marshall can get the second at the Mechanics' Institute library rooms, on Fourth street.

CINCINNATI HOG AND MONEY MARKET. - The Cicuinnati Gazette, of yesterday, says:

In some quarters the money market was reported alightly easier to-day, but generally matters were quite stringent. The regular houses discounted to the extent of their ability at 12 per cent. Eastern Exchange remains at 1/401/2 premium, with appearances in favor of a decline. New Orleans sight 1/4 premium buying and 1/4 premium selling. The leading rates for bills are equal to 10/612 per cent. per annum interest. per annum interest.

The receipts of hogs since Saturday having been

The receipts of logs since Saturday having been large, prices moved yesterday in favor of buyers. The deeline was 15@20c. per 100 pounds; the ontside rates being for the best lots at close being $6 25. A corresponding feeling was manifested in the provision of ion market; sales, which were small, were at a de-cline; good country rendered keg lard was offered at 10% o. Just now the market for every article in the hog line has a downward tendency, which is mainly attriquable to increased receipts of hogs. The total receipts for the current week are estima-

The total receipts for the current week are estimated at between fifty and sixty thousand head, which would make the total receipts about 184,000. The receipts for the corresponding week last year were 71,000, and the total to December, inclusive, 202,-000. It is somewhat remarkable that on this day last year the market reacted, prices gave way 15c 2100 fbs.

In addition to the above I think I can with safety In addition to the above I think I can with safety give the assurance that by the creation of a fund equal to about $200,000, certainly to be had for vigorous operations on Muldrow's Hill, the grade will be completed and ready for the track by, if not before the 1st of January, 1858, to Green River. The stone work to receive the bridge across Kolling Fork will be done in the present month. During the winter the track will be extended across Kolling Fork and in the spring advanced to within seven niles of Elizabethtown, overcoming about one mile of Muldrow's Hill. drow's Hill.

After the resumption of the work on the Main Stem, the first and that a meagre estimate was paid in March last. Operations were only begun on the avails of the second million subscribed by the city in the second million subscribed by the second million subsc on the avails of the second million subscribed by the city in July. By next March, I think I can safely assume that the value of the work done in the year will be not far from four hundred and fifty thousand dollars and all expense paid. If my recollection is not at fault there was no money to the credit of the Company on the 1st day of March, to be applied to the work south of Rolling Fork.

The community may with perfect sequity release.

The community may with perfect security rely upon the fact that the work will be pressed as fast as the money can be procured to pay for it. To attempt to force it beyond that point would be as disastrous as it would be dishonorable. JOHN L. HELM, Pres't L. & N. R. R. Co.

that the questions of business before the body were service in the Senate he entertained the conviction that the questions of business before the body were the only subjects for discussion. He sconfound that other and abler Senators held a different opinion. He thought there were more important duties devolving upon them than the listening to petitions for redressing grievances and enacting laws for the government of the people or they should gnise and prepare the public mind. His own opinion was that the public mind should itself not receive direction from the debates or action of either house of Congress. He thought these bodies should rather be the echo of public sentiment than the framer of it, for that was, in fact, thransforming the Schate from a legislative assembly into an arena of political debute; but it seemed that he was entirely mistaken in his ideas, for it was not for a moment to be supposed that the practice of all those old and experienced Senators was founded upon an erroneous theory. He would confess that all his previous views were completely overturned by his experience here. He found that on those questions which were before Congress as proper subjects of debate it took very latitudinary range. Much was said here that was not said to produce effect on the minds of the members or with the expectation of their votes. But speeches were made, to use a common phrase, for bers or with the expectation of their votes. But speeches were made, to use a common phrase, for buncombe. Inasmuch as this was the case all parties must participate in the discussion. It would be idle for anybody to attempt to elevate himself above the current of debate as it proceeded from day to day.

When he heard the annual message of the President read, the other day, he thought some parts of it were in rather had taste, but that was not a mather than the property of the aspersions the Were in rather had taste, but that was not a mat-ter for the Senate to complain of. They seem to have been dictated by an im-pertinent sort of rage worthy of no particular im-portance when considered in themselves; but com-ing, as they do, from the highest executive officer of the nation, they deserve some remark.

Mr. Collamer quoted from the message those passages charging the Republicans with being influenced with a desire to change the domestic institutions existing in the States, saying that the President imputed false pretenees to them, and had further charged that they seek an object which they well know to be revolutionary, and that, with this knowledge and fully aware of the consequences which must result from their action, the endeavor to prepare the people of the United States for civil war by doing everything in their power to deprive them of a constitution and laws, of moral authority, and undermine the fabric of the Union; and, a little further on, the President spoke of an attempt of a portion of the States, by a sectional organization, to insurp the control of the Government of the United States.

Mr. Collamer regarded these grave and very serious charges as being unwarranted by facts, and proceeded to give the history of slavery in connection with the administration of this government from its foundation to the present time, maintaining that the power of Congress, which is now questioned, to prohibit slavery in the Territories, had always been exercised until a very recent period and that with House.—Mr. Smith of Tennessee, replying to the remark of Mr. Campbell of Ohio and Mr. Sherman, said if they had contined themselves to making excuses for their defeat, he would not have thought it proper to respond. They had charged on the Democratic party the entertaining different sentiments in different sections of the Union, but this was silly—it amounted to nothing in the public mind. He saw in Mr. Sherman's speech an effort to unite all the opposing elements North and South against the Democracy in the next Presidential election. He saw a back down from all the positions heretofore taken by the Republican party in this House relative to the question of slavery—but this scheme will not succeed.

The other gentleman (Mr. Cammpbell) had stated that the great principle of the Nebraska bill and the repeal of the Missouri compromise and the policy of the present administration had been condemned by three hundred thousand votes. So far from this, as

More of the Lindo Tragedy .- At the close of the usual proceedings yestorian morning at the police court, the name of Joseph, otherwise Hugh T. Anderson, charged with the illegal arrest and abduction of Morris Lindo, was called, but failing to answer, his bonds were declared forfeited.

There is much surprise manifested by citizens, that more as serious a charge so small an amount of that upon so serious a charge so small an amount of bail sufficed to set the defendant at liberty. Here is a case which comes home to all, for without any is a case which comes home to all, for without any warrant and upon a vague rumor, people are arrested, their property taken from them, and their persons first secreted and their spirited out of the State. The principal mover in this immarrantable outrage was not a citizen of the State. Pursuing the calling which common report assigns him, of a negro eateher and a capturer of deserters from the army, he has, with a real-harmer perfectly in hearing with with a recklessness perfectly in keeping with such a character, perpetrated a monstrous outrage in the very heart of the law-abiding city of Cincinnati; an very heart of the law-abiding city of Cincinnati; an outrage which, if proven, and that it can be there is no shadow of doubt, wilt, if the law is enforced, send the perpetrator to the State's prison, and yet, in the face of all this, the police judge, late on Saturday night, was induced, personally, to visit the station-honse where the culprit was incarcerated, and set him free upon the insignificant security of a bond for $500, which, as might have been expected, he forfeited on Monday. Taken too in consideration of the mysterions death of the victim, it is almost monstrous that when once captured he should have been allowed the means of escaping comparatively scott free. So far as the police officers, Bunker and Cassiday, are concerned; the mayor is collecting testifree. So far as the police officers, Bunker and Cassiday, are concerned; the mayor is collecting testimony to ascertain how far they are implicated. We should presume that their own statement would be sufficient to dispose of their cases, for neither of them deny their complicity in the detention of Lindo, and the fact of Bunker's having departed with him on the steamer Lecomte is not disputed.

The only result, however, that can attend this investigation will be, if the mayor is satisfied that their conduct has merited a discharge, he will dismiss them from office, and here ends his jurisdiction. Whether the parties will hereafter be prosecuted eriminally remains to be seen.

We have seen the letter sent by the firm of Conolly & Fox (with whom Lindo had been engaged as book-keeper) to Capt. Seamon, in which it is stated that he was a defaulter to the amount of $9,000, and equesting Capt. Seaman to keep a watch upon his novements, and inform the police of Covington and Cincinnati, so that in the event of his obtaining a situation in any mercantile house in this neighborhood his employers might be apprised of the stain upon his probity. These were the sum total of the upon his probity. These were the sum total of the instructions; there was not a word concerning his arrest, and yet, without the slightest shadow of authority from any source whatever, the odicers, with their illegal associate, committed the reckless outrage which resulted so tragically. In the meantime the public will not be satisfied with such a termination to so grave a case. It is the duty of the proper authorities to cause Anderson to be rearrested, and to insure his attendance by placing his bonds at a proportionate figure. Let justice be done.

Cin. Commercial.

Cin. Commercial. Loss of Boats and Barges.—Grounding of the Fleet.—We announced in Saturday's Journal the departure of a number of coal tow steamers with their fleets of barges, and a considerable aggregate of ordinary coal boats. To-day, we are sorry to say, we have disastrous accounts from them. We make the following notes of the disasters in the order in which they reach us, and not in that of distance from the port.

The steamer Jas. Guthrie, bound for Louisville with nine barges in tow and seven flats, all aground at head of Merriman's.

The steamer Tom Jones, for St. Louis, with five barges in tow, partly laden with lumber. Steamer and three barges aground at Merrinan's; two barges sunk there. The steamer Shingiss, for St. Louis with eight barges coal and lumber, got no further than the Trap; three of the lumber boats were sunk, and the steamer with three of her barges grounded. One pair of coal boats aground at Merriman's. Four pairs coal boats aground at the Trap. One barge coal boat, owned by the Watson's, is sunk at Merriman's. Ond pair are aground at Deadman. One pair sunk at Line Island. One pair sunk at Babb's Island, head of Beaver

Here is a very considerable loss of property already. And as the river falls too fast to lighten off anything, the exposure of the steamers and barges, and other grounded craft, to loss and damage, is fearful in prospect. A change of weather and an early rise of the river would release much of this property. Thus far, ther has been no loss of life.

The steamer Forest City, hence for Wheeling, on Saturday morning, ran afoul of one of the Guthrie's barges, at Merriman's, with great damage to her starboard bulwarks, breaking her water-wheel and cook-house. She returned to the city for repairs.

Activity of the Slave Trude.—We learn by conversation with a gentleman lately returned from the coast of Africa, that, white near the mouth of the Congo, he learned from good authority that there were thirty vessels, principally l'ortuguese, or sailing under that character, along the creeks of that river waiting human cargoes. Sheltered by the thick growth which abounds there, these pirates npon humanity are safe from observation by vessels-of-war outside; they have confederates upon the lookout near the mouth of the river to warm of the vicinity of national vessels, and, when the coast is vicinity of national vessels, and, when the coast is clear, they select a dark night and a fair wind and escape clear of the land. It is said the English escape clear of the land. It is said the English Government have a steamer on the coast, and that a certain Yankee captain with a fast brig amnsea himself in sailing round her upon a wind; that what is wanted is an American steamer, capable of sailing fourteen miles an hour; with such a vessel our informant agrees to pay for every slave which Portuguese or Yankees can steal from that part of the coast.—N. Mr. McLeon's Lecture.-The announcement that Mr. McLeod was to deliver a fecture on "Late Justice, as exemplified in the Life of Mary Queen of Scotts," drew out a very good andience, but not as large a one as was expected. He has an extended reputation as a writer, and not one of those familiar with the products of his pen should have been absent from Mozart Hall last night. The lecturer, throughont his discourse, manifested the deepest feeling not only for poor Mary, the subject of his lecture, but for brave, unfortunate Scotland and for that religion which Mary professed, and for the sake of which she suffered a cruel, life-long persecution. Mr. McL. is a stauich Catholic, and he sconrged with an unsparing lash every one who ever persecuted Mary Queen of Scotts or caused her sorrow. The contemporary enemies of Mary were anothematized by the lecturer until their very dust must have trembled in their graves; and William Makepeace Thackeray, who lectured last winter in New York, was denounced as "a literary grave-rat" for reviving the puritan dogmas which had embittered Mary's youth and kept her twenty years in a prison and at last caused her to end her life on a scaffold. We have not room to give a full synopsis of Mr. McLeod's lecture, though we would much like to do so. He treated his subject boldly and manifested devotion to his religion and his nationality.

INVASION OF POINTE COUPEE.-Under this caption, the Pointe Coupee (La.) Echo, of the 29th, gives an account of the lawless acts of three desperadoes-James Mayes, Ephraim Mayes, and W. R. Henderson-who crossed the river from Bayou Sara on the previous Wednesday, and fairly took possession of Pointe Conpee. They entered the hotel of Mr. Flecheux, drove the proprietor and his family out, pitched furniture through the windows, drank themselves drunk and then smashed up the bar. They rioted undisturbed for full five hours, and the Echo accounts for this by the absence at the time of the immediate neighbors. They were finally driven off by a Mr. Senthell, armed with a revolver, and proceeded up the river, committing similar outrages at various stores and dwellings on their route. A number of citizens succeeded in arresting them that night near Morganza, and they are in jail under charges of robbery and attempted arson, having during their spree made preparations to fire Mr. Flecheux's house.

THE TONNAGE OF THE UNITED STATES.-The Secretary of the Treasury, in his annual report, gives a statement showing that the tonnage of the United States on the 30th of June, 1856, was 340,-349 less than shown by the statement for the 30th of June, 1855. This has arisen in part from a stricter examination of the returns of former years, and a correction, by striking out vessels formerly sold without the United States, or lost by marine or other casualties. There has been a regular progressive increase, with our increasing population and commerce, although retarded at times by the accidents of war, the casualties of trade and commercial dif-

The New Orleans Picayune notices the engagement of a ship of 800 tons to take a full cargo of cotton seed from that port to Providence, R. I., where the article is to be turned into oil and oil cake. An extensive factory for extracting oil from the seed of cotton is already in operation in Rhode Island, and one or two companies are forming in Boston with the object of getting up similar establishments there. This is an enterprise in which the South is greatly interested, promising, as it does, to convert an article hitherto worse than useless into one of great commercial value.

SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.—The Mercantile Marine Insurance Company of New York publishes the startling statement that it has paid, during the past three years, over six millions of dollars to the merchants for marine losses, or two million per annum. And yet the Company is sound, solvent, and flourishing, suggesting another startling fact in regard to the enormous amount which the merchants must have paid into the Company in the meantime, in the shape of premiums on policies.

A MISSING MAIL BAG .- The Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer states that, some two or three weeks ago, a brass lock mail bag started from Knoxville to Nashville, Tenn., failed to reach its destination. It was either lost or stolen, but no clue as to its fate could be found until a few days ago. This "clue" is thus given by the journal named:

A man named Wm. Smith, formerly "drummer" at Lloyd's litotel in the city, but who has for some time past been employed as mail guard on the Western and Atlantic railroad, was known to have a good deal of money—was handling and spending much larger sums of eash than appeared consistent for one in his station of life. The circumstance was brought to the attention of the officers of the road, and one night last week Col. R. J. Gowart called upon the young man at his lodgings, and succeeded in obtaining from, him $550 in bills on Tennessee banks, which he said he had found in a puree or pocket-book on the care about a month ago, and was keeping it to see if any one claimed it. As the mails between Knoxville and Nashville pass from Dalton to Chattanoga over the State road, it is reasonable to suppose that this Smith knows the fate of the missing brass lock bag.

A Second Daniel Lambert.—On Sunday, the 9th inst., Mr. James Mansfield expired at the village of Debden, in his 82d year. He was an extraordinary character, for, though not above the ordinary height, character, for, though not above the ordinary height, he was of immense magnitude, measuring 9 feet round, and weighing 33 stones of 14 pounds. When sitting on his chair [made especially for his use four feet wide], his abdomen covered his knees, and hung down almost to the ground. When he reclined it was necessary to pack his head to prevent suffocation. About ten years ago he was exhibited at the Leicester square rooms, London, as the "greatest man in the world." He has also been exhibited in the country. A suit of clothes made especially for him would comfortably button up four ordinary sized men. Marshfield was a butcher by trade, and at the time of his death was a hale old man, possessing a good coustitution, and a sanguine and happy temperament. His remains have been interred at Debden.—Essex Herald.

Unusual Proceeding.—The jury in the case of a negro named Willie, recently tried at Carlisle, Pa., for the murder of John Kissel, being unable to agree upon a verdict; were discharged, when the following novel proceedings transpired: The court, having the evidence before them, and the negro being willing to plead guilty to murder in the second degree, and the Commonwealth consenting, sentenced the prisoner to eleven years and ten months solitary confinement at labor in the penitentiary. The highest penalty of the law is twelve years, but, as it is contrary to the act of Assembly to turn out criminals during the winter months, the sentence was abliged to conform thereto, and Willis escapes some sixty days longer punishment.

In the Supreme Court of New York, on Saturday, Judge Hoffman decided that a client had a right to change his counsel at his pleasure, no matter what his motives might be, as the relation of counsel and elient required the most unlimited confidence and perfect harmony. He reports the population of Arizona at from ten to fifteen thousand persons, and that the Territory will make a State about as large as Pennsylvania.

A caneus of the Virginia Congressional delegation was held at Washington on Saturday evening, at which they declared their preference for Mr. Bocock, should Mr. Buchanan think proper to give Virginia a Cabinet appointment. Governor Floyd, who arrived at the seat of Government on Sunday, strongly disapproves of the action of the Virginia Electoral College.

Michael Panning was killed and Alexander Bennett was mortally wounded at New Orleans on the night of the 2d inst. by Jim Cruise, who immediately fled.

CAPTURE OF ALLEGED COUNTERFEITERS-$20,000 in Counterfeit Money Setzed.—On Saturday morning the President and Cashier of the Morris Co. Bank, at Morristown, N. J., called upon the Chief of Police, and stated that they had obtained a clue to a party, who had for some time past been putting in circula-tion counterfeit bills on the above Bank. The Chief deputised officers Masterson and Murphy, to aid officer Sutherland of New Jersey in the business, and Mr. Masterson soon after appeared, attired as a cattle drover, and proceeded to the Commercial Hotel, for the purpose of arresting a man calling himself Williams, who was suspected of being one of the counterfeiters. Williams soon appeared, and the of-tieer gave him to understand that he wished to buy counterfeiters. Williams soon appeared, and the ofticer gave him to understand that he wished to buy a quantity of bogus money, to take West to be used in the purchase of cattle. Williams exhibited several well executed specimens, and told the drover that he could have any quantity over $1,000, at 25 cents on the dollar. At this moment, officer Sutherland entered the room, and Williams, fearing all was not right, attempted to throw the bills into the fire but was prevented from doing so and arrested.

If e was taken to the Chief's office, and upon condition that his own personal safety should be assured, he expressed a willingness to tell who were his accomplices. He then stated, it is alleged, that he obtained the money from James M. Taylor & Bro., exchange brokers, at the corner of Chatham and James streets. The officers and prisoner then visited the office of the Taylors, and officer Masterson, still disguised, went in with Williams, whom he had furnished with genuine bills to expend for bogus ones.
A large package of bills, it is said, was soon handed by one of the brothers to Williams, and then the officer having given the signal, the other officers, who nished with genuine bills to expend for bogus ones. A large package of bills, it is said, was soon handed by one of the brothers to Williams, and then the officer having given the signal, the other officers, who were outside, rushed in, and the two men were arrested, but not without a determined resistance.

The premises were then searched and about $20,000 in counterfeit money, it is alleged, was found. The denominations were from $1 to $20, and they were imitations of the issues of the Morris Co. Bank, N. J., Onondaga Bank of Syracuse, N. Y., Hamilton Bank of Scituate, R. I., Eastern Bank, Columbia co., Bank of Pa., Anthraeite Bank of Tamaqua, Pa., Merchants' Exchange Bank of this city, and others. A large quantity of bills in an unfinished state, it is said, was also found, and several thousand dollars in genuine bills on the Tradesmen's Bank of this city, which were the property of the bank, the brothers having done business with it. The bills are all admirably executed, and well calculated to deceive the best judges. They were sold to Williams, it is said, for one shilling on the dollar. The parties were all, on Sunday, taken before Justice Davidson, Jeremiah L. Taylor and James M. Taylor gave bail in $5,000 each for trial. Their bondsmen are Marcus Sharkie, of 105 Monroe street, and Wm. H. Goodwin, of No. 107 East 39th street. Williams was locked up in default of bail. A man named Augustus 'Kimberly was also arrested as a confederate and committed for trial.—N. Y. Sun.

GREAT ATTRACTION .-- The dry goods hou Miller & Tabb, corner of Fourth and Market streets, has been thronged daily for the last week with ladies; all availing themselves of the opportunity now offered by this house of bnying dry goods at "prime Eastern cost." We would advise our friends and all those in search of great bargains and good goods to give them an early eall.

They have a large and attractive stock of every description of fancy and staple dry goods.

Their stock of cloaks, in point of variety and elegance, is unsurpassed by that of any other house in the West, which they are offering at cost and less. Iu order to secure the latest and best goods, call

A GREAT RUN .- We were shown a circular yesterday, containing letters or extracts from letters from more than lifty country merchants and druggists of the highest respectability, who state that Porter's Oriental Life Liniment sells rapidly and gives universal satisfaction to their eustomers.

A person eau judge of the popularity of the Oriental Life Liniment in this city by the retail sales, which have averaged two hundred bottles per day since the proprietor has occupied the present depot and sales room on Third street. Everybody should call and get a circular, which gives a full history of its origin, use, and application, &c. The names of over two thousand persons can be given who have used this liniment with success. Remember the place, 96 Third street, near the post-office. d&wi&d&wbtf

The St. Louis Democrat, of Tuesday, says:

The Illinois Clored — Boats Frozen In — News
From the Missouri—The Mississippi Falling Rapidly.

The river at this point was falling yesterday at the rate of one inch per hour, and had fallen last evening altogether about two feet. The officers and crew of the Mary C. arrived in the city yesterday, having left that boat at Pekin, on the Illinois. She is loaded with grain, &c., for this port, and is new frozen in, the river at the place indicated being covered with strong and stationary ice.

We learn that the Vienna, at Havana, and the Altoona and Henricita, at Peoria, are also frozen in, with every probability of staying so until the spring. There are still other boats—small ones—in that stream, at different points, frozen up, with cargoes on board. The officers of the Mary C. left the boat on Friday evening, at which time the weather was very cold and the river tailing. The lightning line packet Cataract arrived yesterday from the Missouri, in a slightly leaking condition—her pumps lu operation. She started up for Weston, but got only to Hillishanding, where, the ice being very thick and heavy, and the river falling fast, she put her treight in store for the winter. She left Hill's landing on the 5th. The river fell the night before twenty luches, leaving only three and a half feet on the bars. Other boats are coming down, and will not return until spring.

On arriving at Hill's the Cataract had fifty passengers.
There were some 45 boats yesterday lying at the wharf, and laiding above and below. Among those laid up, are the Castle Garden, Gossiner, Navigator, Badger State, Gipsey, Lonisville, Cataract, Grace Darline, York State, Amerieus, Miunesota Belle, Sam Gatey, Keokuk and Quincy. There are several others, but they will leave in a few days for the south, or the Ohio. The Martha is also laid up, having a load on board for the Illinois, but cannot go through the lec.
The ice continued going past all day, as heavy as on SunNew Orleans, and the Fanny Fe

Methodist Church Difficulty.—A disturbance has arisen in the Methodist Church at Fincastle, Va., on arisen in the Methodist Church at Fincastle, Va., on the question of the "Church North" and "South." It seems that a short time back the number of the Trustees of the Church property had become deficient, and, on application to Court for the appointment of new Trustees, a contention arose as to whether the new appointees should be favorable to the Virginian Conference (Church South) or the Baltimore Conference (Church North). The property was originally held by the Baltimore Conference, or at least was controlled by the preachers fof that Conference, and an attempt to appoint new Trustees favorable to the Church South was met by powerful resistance. The court decided in favor of powerful resistance. The court decided in favor of the Baltimore Conference. The difficulty has re-sulted in producing great confusion and distraction in the Methodist congregation, much the larger portion holding with the Church South.

A negro woman named Jane, belonging to a man living thirty uniles back of Louisville, run away about six months ago and came to this city and represented herself as a free woman, and about a month ago was married to a negro man living here. On Sunday last the master of the woman chanced to be passing a negro house in this city and saw the woman and reclaimed her yesterday. There was considera-ble excitement among the negroes about West Union. The woman, without warrant or authority, was quietly taken back to Kentucky.—New Albany Ledger.

Senate.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the motion to print the President's message and accompanying documents.

Mr. Pugh entered into a defense of the President in all the positions and arguments of the unessage and especially that portion of it which denounced the spirit of sectionalism and disunion. In replying to the arguments of the opposition, he contended that every measure of the present administration had been emphatically endorsed by the people, and none of them more distinctly than the principle of popular sovereignty in the territories. The Democratic national platform was explicit upon every purely national platform was explicit upon every purely national platform was explicit upon every purely na-tional question, and whatever assertions might now be made of deception in this section or that they were broadly in the face of the facts. The Democratic party went into the canvass with no concealments, it held no views or opinions in reserve, and advocated no principle that was not well understood in every Chicago, Dec. 9.

The message of Gov. Grimes, of Iowa, is brief and devoted mainly to State financial interests. Total available revenue $246,000. Total indebtedness $128,000. He recommends immediate provision for the payment of $55,000 State bonds due on the first of January. The Superintendent of Public Constructions having failed to pay $60,000, as directed by the last Legislature, he recommends the appointment of a commission to examine the affairs of the Des Moines Improvement Company. He recommends careful legislation on the subject of county and nunnicipal indebtedness. Says that during the past summer it was currently reported that the President of the United States had failed to protect citizens of Iowa in Kansas for the reason that no official intelligence of outrages had reached him; consequently he deemed it his duty to notify the President of crimes against former citizeus of Iowa and demand crimes against former citizens of Iowa and demand the protection of the Federal Government. He submits copies of letters, and desires to reiterate the opinion that it is the duty of the State to protect her own former citizens, now in Kansas, when the Federal authorities are unable or neglect the same.

DE. ROBACK'S SCANDINAVIAN REMEDIES. - In directing the attention of our readers to Dr. Roback's advertisement, we have no hesitation in saying that all he claims for his medicines is confirmed by certificates from all parts of the West. The language of these certificates is so earnest and grateful, and the cures refer to such a variety of diseaser, that it would be folly to question the restorative properties of the preparations. It appears that while botanlzing among his natwe mountains, in Sweden, during a visit to that country some years ago, be collected a large quantity of rare medicinal herbs, unknown in this untry, and by combining the liquids and solid extracts of those possessing powerful detergent properties, he succe n producing his celebrated Blood Purifier and Blood Pills which are said to exercise a more beneficial effect upon the fulds of the buman body than any other curatives now in existence.
